

Personal Statement Example for Business Management

For a number of years I have been keen to apply university as I believe having a degree will help me find better employment in later life. After much consideration, I have decided that Business Management is the right degree for me as I would like to learn the skills to help me become successful in business, and I am interested in finding out how businesses work. My father runs his own business and I have learned a lot from watching him work and hearing about the ups and downs of being a small businessman. I would now like to learn more about the theoretical side of business management.

I do not currently take AS-level Business Studies. This is not because of any lack of interest or motivation on my part, but because I suffered a major personality clash with the Business Studies teacher at my school. I am currently studying Maths, IT and History, I also took AS-level Further Maths but decided to not to continue it at A2 level, when I decided that although I enjoy Mathematics, I did not want to do a Maths degree at university. I enjoy all the A2 subjects I am taking as I believe they complement each other well, but they also differ. I really enjoy the class discussions, especially in History. I am quite a confident person so I like debating points and challenging the opinions of others in the class. It is a shame that there is not a debating club at my school as I would definitely have been an active member, but I look forward to perhaps getting involved with one at university.

Outside of the classroom I like to relax by playing football (I am a member of my school team and a local five-a-side team) and by boxing. I love boxing as it keeps me fit and helps me release my anger. I am also a keen supporter of Crystal Palace FC. I have supported them since I was five and have stuck with Crystal Palace through thick and thin, which I think displays my commitment and loyalty, qualities that I value very highly in a person. I also have a part-time job at my local Sainsbury's store. At times this can be very demanding as I work on the delicatessen and some customers can be very picky about how thickly you cut their ham or how well you wrap it, but I feel my part-time job has taught me valuable lessons in patience and also in dealing with members of the public.

I think my enthusiasm for going to university is perhaps displayed by the fact that I have carefully chosen which universities to apply to and researched each one thoroughly. I believe I have the motivation and commitment to be a good and successful student, and I hope that gaining a degree will help me reach my ultimate goal of running my own business.
